CUSTOM SUBLIMATED UNIFORMS

Sublimation is the process where patterns or designs are printed onto paper and then transferred onto the fabric under high heat and pressure. With sublimation color, designs, fonts and custom possibilities are endless!

CUSTOM SUBLIMATED UNIFORMS

Sublimation Fabrics Available:

Classic Knit (M): Polyester knit material. Durable yet breathable. Most common material for men's uniform tops and bottoms. Midweight.

Polyspandex (B): Polyspandex blend fabric with stretch. Works best in women's racer styles and skirts. When used for a women's uniform top, this fabric will make the top tight fitting.

Prowear (G): Polyester dri-fit material. Smooth feel and breathable. Great for a loose fitting women's top and skirt.

No hole Mesh (I): Polyester knit. Looks closely weaved and has no visible holes but given the look mesh without holes. Light-midweight.

Checkerboard Knit (E): Lightweight checkerboard knit material with a shiny finish and slight stretch.

SUBLIMATED HOCKEY JERSEYS

HARROW SUBLIMATED JERSEYS

Sublimated jerseys offer unparalleled customization with unlimited color, font, and logo choices. In sublimation, dye is transferred directly into the thread of the jersey, because of this logos, numbers, and design elements will not crack or peel. No additional materials are added to the jersey such as screen printed ink, embroidery, or tackle twill – this makes the jersey lighter and more flexible.

ART GUIDE

NOT PRODUCTION READY

RASTER (or non-vector) logos are defined by dots, just like a picture on your TV screen. If you blow them up, the dots just get bigger - and more obvious. Raster files require a redraw before they're production ready unless they are 100% to scale 300DPI (high resolution) images.

Common file types:

.jpg
.gif
.bmp
.pdf (sometimes)

When asking for a vector logo, suggest that a coach ask their athletic director, public relations department, or whoever "designed" their logo for it, and tell them to "ask for an 'EPS' or vector version".

PROCESS TO BECOME READY

Screen Printing

"REDRAWING" means drawing a logo as a vector logo. In most cases, it must be done by hand, creating complex curves that approximate the original logo. If redrawing can be done in under 30 minutes, we do it for free (we're nice guys), but a few cases are much more complex... that's when we charge a redrawing fee.

Minor (no charge)

Major $90

VECTOR

Vector file types:

.ai
.eps
.pdf (sometimes)

NOT VECTOR

Non Vector file types:

.jpg
.gif
.bmp
.pdf (sometimes)

Embroidery

"DIGITIZATION", while often used interchangeably with redrawing, is an embroidery term. Technically, a digitized logo is much more complex than a vector logo, since the position of each thread within a shape is considered (a vector logo only considers the outside edge of the shape). Digitization must always be done by hand, even when a vector logo is already provided. We always charge for digitization, since it's labor-intensive.

Check www.harrowsports.com/embroidery for stitch count examples

$150

PRODUCTION READY

VECTOR logos use abstract curves and shapes to define a logo. For that reason, you can blow them up to any size (as big as a building, even), and the logo remains just as sharp and smooth as the original. No quality loss.

Vector file types:

.ai
.eps
.pdf (sometimes)

DIGITIZED logos are used in embroidery, and represent a logo as individual stitches of thread. Every inch of thread used to embroider a logo is laid out in a digitized file.

Digitized files types:

.PXF
