HG10mm®

NO SHOE HAS MADE MORE OF AN IMPACT ON AVOIDING IMPACT.

COMFORT = PERFORMANCE

With the advancements in equipment and surfaces that apply to field sports that have occurred over the years, the one critical piece of equipment that has been overlooked has been footwear. ASICS, once again, will challenge conventional thinking with the introduction of HG10mm®.

With the athlete as our primary focus, ASICS embarked on a mission to determine common over-use injuries and how a change in footwear development might assist in reducing them. From this work, we determined that by providing a 10mm heel raise we changed the angle of the hip, knee and ankle. These changes may reduce the common over-use injuries of the hamstring and achilles.

In addition, high levels of pressure are applied with each stride the athlete takes. HG10mm® not only reduces areas of stress in the lower extremities, it also provides cushioning, a commonly overlooked feature.

ASICS 10MM HEEL GRADIENT SHIFTS THE BODY MASS FORWARD OVER CENTER ALLOWING FASTER TRANSITION FROM STANDSTILL TO ACTION WITH SUBSTANTIALLY LESS STRAIN ON THE LOWER LIMBS.

GEL-BLACKHEATH® 3

The best in ASICS cleated technologies with durable upper materials, SpEVA® midsole and multi-studded rubber outsole provide traction and comfort, PGuard™ toe protector ensures durability and provides enhanced forefoot protection.
